

Keren Eliana Parent Advocacy and Resource Center (P.A.R.C.)

Invites you to attend a

Kulanu Woodmere Shabbat Tea and Talk

The Challenged Child, a Challenge for the Community

Friday Night, March 5, at 8:00 p.m.

Graciously hosted by

Natalia and Neil Thalheim 354 Island Avenue, Woodmere

Featuring a Panel of Speakers from the Local Community:

Rina Friedman coordinates an informal support group for moms of children with special needs. A chocolate party and gift company entrepreneur, Rina and her husband Matis, a volunteer at Kulanu's Judaic studies division, live in Woodmere and are members of Aish Kodesh. Their daughters attend TAG and their son attends CAHAL at South Shore Yeshiva and Kulanu's Sunday Recreation Activities Program.

Jeffrey Schoenfeld and his wife Suzanne reside in Woodmere with their children who attend KULANU H.S. and HAFTR. A Senior Vice President in the Private Wealth Management division of UBS, he serves on the Kulanu Board on its nominating and finance committees. Jeff is also a director at HAFTR and actively involved at the Young Israel of Woodmere.

Rabbi Dr. Noam Weinberg is Associate Principal of the Moriah School, in Englewood, NJ. A YU RIETS smIcha graduate, he holds a Doctorate in education, and is currently completing a degree in parent coaching. A board member of KULANU as well as TOVA, Rabbi Dr. Noam Weinberg believes that education is a right and not a privilege that belongs to every child. Noam and Nechama and their five children are Young Israel of Woodmere members.

The entire Woodmere community is invited and encouraged to attend.

This Shabbat Tea is free – no solicitations will be made
